

icef > Blogs > In The News > VPPMS Attends Etiquette Brunch

VPPMS Attends Etiquette Brunch

Over the weekend, 7th graders from the View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School participated in etiquette training in the setting of a brunch at H.O.M.E. Restaurant in Beverly Hills. With the help of Imagine Etiquette & Image Consulting, Inc., the young ladies were coached on how to communicate with confidence and exude politeness and respect. Imagine embodies the importance of self-esteem, self-worth, self-confidence and self-respect. It also focuses on public speaking, leadership, communication and social skills which includes the fundamentals of proper manners, politeness, social media etiquette, building character, confidence and dining etiquette.

Founder of Imagine Etiquette, Bernadette Fernandez notes, "As a woman, daughter and mother, I am disappointed as to how women are allowing themselves to be represented in society today. I personally believe we are losing our children to the world of social media. More specifically, our young girls are the constant target of inappropriate behavior. I believe if we reform our attitude and begin to teach our young girls to respect and value themselves at an early age, this vast problem of social media, texting and other social injustices will bypass and provide our young girls with the confidence to stand out in society as a "lady" as opposed to what is being represented today.

TAGS

Special Education ICEF
Physical Education
Nutrition Health
Wellness Fitness
Athletics Basketball
Sports Arts VAPA
Student School Senior
Frederick Douglass High
School View Park
Construction Update
Mentor Elevate VPPHS
FDAHS Marching band
cheer squad pep MLK
parade holiday
Enrollment Open House
Rugby Students Black
History Celebration
Counseling Volunteer
VPPES Parents Scholars
FDAMS IIMS Reading
Academics

RECENT POSTS

- Celebrated Author Visits IIMS and Donates Books
- Frederick Douglass Schools Attend Dodgers Game

Founder of Imagine Etiquette, Bernadette Fernandez notes, "As a woman, daughter and mother, I am disappointed as to how women are allowing themselves to be represented in society today. I personally believe we are losing our children to the world of social media. More specifically, our young girls are the constant target of inappropriate behavior. I believe if we reform our attitude and begin to teach our young girls to respect and value themselves at an early age, this vast problem of social media, texting and other social injustices will bypass and provide our young girls with the confidence to stand out in society as a "lady" as opposed to what is being represented today.

We are very fortunate to provide our young female scholars with an outlet to set higher standards for themselves, while creating social decorum. By helping them improve their decision-making in life, it will provide more opportunities in their future endeavors and bridge the gap of success in middle school through college and beyond.

Posted by mhayward On 24 April, 2015 at 10:28 AM

RECENT POSTS

- Celebrated Author Visits IIMS and Donates Books
- Frederick Douglass Schools Attend Dodgers Game
- VPPMS Attends Etiquette Brunch
- ICEF Athletics for All
- ICEF Rugby International Tour
- Arts Update - April
- Athletics Corner - April
- ICEFer of the Month - April
- Reality Embedded Program
- ICEF Parent Gives Back

ARCHIVES

- April 2015 \(9\)
- March 2015 \(8\)
- February 2015 \(9\)
- January 2015 \(5\)

LEAVE YOUR COMMENT

Guest Name

*

Title

*

Comment

*

Submit

Cancel

GROUP BLOGS

- In The News

CONTENT ALERT SUBSCRIPTION

Blog Feeds

Podcast Feeds